

Kalama

One of Washington's Best Kept Secrets

One of the region's best kept secrets, the Port of Kalama, offers some of the best value and opportunity for businesses interested in affordability, accessibility and infrastructure-rich properties on which to grow. From sweeping acres of industrial land along the beautiful Columbia River to a new Industrial Park, Port of Kalama boasts a quality location to grow your business and a quality of life unsurpassed – all just 25 minutes from a major international airport in Portland. Companies wishing to grow and expand will find:

- Collaborative, business friendly environment
- Affordable/competitive rates
- Accessibility to all modes of transportation
- Quality of life, beautiful, quiet, hometown feel

Recreation

The Port of Kalama is also home to a Marine Park -- a five acre day-use park bordered by 1.8 miles of paved pedestrian/bicycle pathway along the Columbia River; offering great views of the mighty Columbia and the marina. The Marine Park features playgrounds, covered picnic shelters and the largest totem pole carved from a single tree in the Pacific Northwest, all within walking distance from the City of Kalama and other Port recreational areas.

Downtown

Kalama's offerings don't stop at the river's edge. The downtown area is filled with delicious dining options and many places to shop for something old and something new. Antique shops located in some of the town's original buildings give guests a unique visit. Just up the hill from historic downtown is the beautiful brick Kalama High School, best known for its cameo appearance in the blockbuster 'Twilight' saga series. Although the books and movies are based in Forks, WA many of the scenes were shot at Kalama High School.
